LOTS OF TALK

At Last Night's Meeting of Wheeling City Council.

LOCATION OF NEW CREMATORY

Plant Guiside the City Limits was a "Burning" Topic During the Session, and the Ordinance was Finally Referred Back for Chauges-Council Again Turns Down Committee's Recommendation for Revoking the "Clementine" License-Routine Business Transacted.

A regular meeting of city council was held last night, with a large attendance of members on both sides. The principal subjects discussed were the new crematory or reduction plant and the revoking of the "Clementine" saloon li-cense. After considerable discussion, the Howland crematory ordinance was referred back for certain changes, the principal of which is the location of the plant outside the city limits. Regarding the "Clementine" license matter, the showing of the weak points of the city's case legally by Solicitor Nesbitt contributed to the favor with which the Nesbitt motion to lay the committee report on the table was received.

ter having been objected to at the last meeting of council by Mr. Travis.

Mr. Ahl wanted the ordinance

Mr. And washed the committee, with thatructions to select another site, not on the Peninsula.

Other councilmen objected to the site proposed. The Ahl motion to refer was lost on a decleive vote. The ordinance was then read by sections for amendment and debate. When section one was read, Mr. Knoke offered an amendment providing for changing the site of ment, providing for changing the site of the plant to a point beyond the ridge on the Peninsula, outside the city lim-Mr. Ahl addressed council, and again

Mr. Ahl addressed council, and again saked that the ordinance be referred to the ordinance committee. Even if the plant is located outside the city limits, suburban residents will object. The promoter of the enterprise says he will need the garbage of 100,000 people. He did not want the Peninaula made the dumping ground for 60,000 outside people. He would prefer having the plant located between Wheeling and Moundsville.

located between Wheeling and Moundsville.

Dr. Jepson, health officer of the city, siddressed council. A year ago a similar proposition had been made. At the time he had inquired as to the sanitary condilions at these plants. He had received replies from Brooklyn and Pittsburgh and at both places there had been no complaints. The proposition now before council provides for another methed, but its projector claims there are no odors. The ordinance provides for the closing down of the plant if there are violations of its provisions. As far as the location is concerned, it is possible the promoters will not accept the ordinance if the site is changed. He would ask council to consider carefully the present inadequate facilities at the city crematory, where not over two-thirds of the offal is burned. The facilities for burning are entirely too small. Confeats of vaults have been taken to the crematory, water not see continuous of the offal is burned. The facilities for burning are entirely too small. Contents of vaulis have been taken to the country, and as a consequence suburban residents are kicking. If the present proposal fails, council should at once proceed to enlarge facilities at the crematory. The committee on health doesn't think the proposed plant will be a misance, and if it should prove one, the ordinance provides a remedy. A large saving will accrue to the city by accepting the Howland proposition.

Mr. Berry said on authority that an amendment localing the plant outside the city would be acceptable.

Mr. Ahl moved an amendment to the smendment, localing the plant outside the city, that it shall not be cast of the city.

Mr. Herry said there would probably Mr. Herry said there would probably be no objection to the plant being located on the Baltimore & Ohlo east of the city, between the city and Sim Grove. It will be necessary to have realroad facilities, and wast of the city are the most advantageous sites.

Mr. Aht said he did not want the plant located on the National pike.

There is another point of far more importance, said Mr. Berry. The far-ther away from town the plant is loca-ted, the greater will be the cost of de-livering the garbage at the plant. If the plant is located below McMechen or far from town, he would favor an amendment, requiring Howland to place cars at the disposal of the collec-tor of garbage in the city for its trans-portation.

President Chew supposted that, in the tor of garbage in the city for its transportation.

President Chew suggested that, in the event of the plant being located outside the city, the health officer would have no jurisdiction.

The penalty, said Solicitor Nesbitt, could not be enforced with the plant located outside the city.

So many complications arising, Mr. Berry moved to refer back to the committee on health.

President Chew said council ought to go slow in this matter. He wanted Howland bound by a contract if the plant is located out of the city. He moved to refer to the city solicitor.

Mr. Berry's motion was put, Mr. Chew withdrawing his motion. Before the vote was taken, Solicitor Nesbitt inquired if he was to draw up an ordinance locating the plant out of the city. Mr. Hahne suggested locating the plant in the city, at the end of the Baltimore & Ohio tunnel, where he did not believe objections would arise. Too many complications arise when it is proposed to locate the plant outside the city.

Mr. Berry did not believe Howland city.

Mr. Berry did not believe Howland could secure the site named by Mr.

The Berry motion to refer back to the committee on health was passed. An amendment to refer fointly to the committee on ordinance, health board and the solicitor, was carried. The committees meet this evening.

Mr. Paul said the sollcitor had alreade been heard and both sides had received a fair and impartial hearing.

President Chew was not in favor of the report because the citizen (Mr. Felnler) has not moved in the way of having the saloonist arrested for violations of the law. Already the city has lost $2,500 in the present year by law suits. He favored letting the license run out, and in case it is known the place is suits. He favored letting the license run out, and in case it is known the place is not run properly the license can be refused next spring.

Solleitor Nesbitt said the city charter says nothing about revoking licenses, Dillon, a leading criminal authority, says council canont annul. Other leading authorities hold the body granting the license can annul. Recently his attention had been called to a section in the statutes of the state, which gives power to annul licenses "for good cause shown." This good cause, he said must be shown to council, but Wheeling's council has no authority to hear such cases. However, affidavits by the incouncil has no authority to near such cases. However, affidavits by the interested parties could be given, followed by arguments by counsel. In this manenr the license could be revoked without a conviction, but a conviction would strengthen the city's case legally.

ROUTINE BUSINESS.

The fire committee reported bills, which were ordered paid.

The committees on railroads and on streets, alleys and grades reported. The pelition of J. L. Hawley for stone steps on Tenth street was recommended favorably and an ordinance to be framed by the ordinance committee. The recommendation, however, was turned down by council. The imperfect street paving by the Wheeling & Eim Grove Hallway Company not having been accepted by the company, it was given time to fix the paving.

The committee on cemeteries reported bills; ordered paid.

The ordinance committee reported an ordinance repealing an ordinance providing for safety gates and watchman at Sixteedth and Main streets. Mr. Fair said the Ballimore & Ohio Railway Company efficials waited time to put up the depot improvements next spring, so the committee had recommended as above. The ordinance was amended so as to enforce the keeping of a watchman at the point; then it was passed without opposition.

A petition was received from Eighth ward residents for the grading of several streets and alleys, which are now claimed to be in ind condition. The matter was referred to the board of public works.

The matters considered early in the session of the first branch, the "Clementine" affair and the new crematory ordinance did not reach the upper branch at all last night. After transacting routine business, confirming all that had been done by the second, a resolution was introduced granting James L. Hawley the privilege to construct steps on Tenth street from the Hawley building; it was referred to the ordinance committee. The second branch had turned down the Hawley petition.

AMUSEMENTS. There is at least one touch of nature in "My Friend From India," the comedy that will be presented at the Opera-House to-night. It is the tragic moment when the aunt and niece discover that each has purchased a complete costume exactly like the other, play produced for years has contained a scene so fraught with human nature think it all a very good joke, but it is noticeable that the women of the audi-ence take it with a positively painful seriousness. No smiles for them; they recognize the gravity of the situation, and every face is tense; every breath held. It is really remarkable that no play-wright has ever thought of turn-ling such a crisis to dramatic account before. It offers an opportunity quite sufficient to hinge an entire melodrama upon. Aside from the terrible inclient, the comedy is a great, side-cracking laugh for one and all. It has taken New York by storm. It is what the circus men would call a "grgantle mastodonile megatherian hit." Chief among the players who will be seen in the comeds here are William C. Mandeville, Arthur Larkin, Ernest Warde, W. E. Colligan, Charles Mitchell, Lute Frohman, Ada Gliman, Margarei Otis, Agnes Färnum, Louise Arnott and Julia Bachelor.

in New York," was written for laughing purposes only. It illustrates the adventures of a countryman's first visit to the city and many funny and amusion situations are depicted during the action of the comedy; from the rise to the fall of the curtain it is said to be one long, continuous laugh. The dialogue is bright and witty and the seenic effects and costuming are all that could be desired.

"THE AMERICAN GIRL"

"THE AMERICAN GIRL."

H. Gratian Donnelly's new play, "The American Girl." has its first Wheeling production at the Opera House to-morrow right. "The American Girl" is materially different form anything that Mr. Donnelly has hitherto written. It is of a much deeper and more patients of a much deeper and more patients of a much deeper and more patients of the manner of his previous productions, excepting formily his "Darkest Russia." The surry is one of intense heart interest, told in beautiful language, and the situations are so arranged that the comedy and dramatic incidents atternate so rapidly that tears and heartest launther mingle throughout the entire performance. "The American Girl" is one of those plays that cannot fall to please, because the characters are life-like, among them Jasmine, the heroday Colonel Ross Bolter, a limiting American theatrical manger, and the law bright little children, Prince Roy and the Lattle Lady.

Come in different shapes to almost everyone just now. Gift hunters will find it comparatively easy to make selections from this stock of ours. What would make a more appropriate gift than a Diamond Ring or a fine Watch—especially such goods as come from our stock. John Becker & Co.,
